

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides a protein (DPI-6) identified in CSF, compositions comprising the protein, including vaccines and antibodies which are immunospecific for the protein. The use of the protein in the diagnosis, screening, treatment and prophylaxis of a neurological or neuropsychiatric condition is also provided.